

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

A Weekly Review of National Affairs

(By Special Correspondent)

Ottawa, Sept. 22nd.—The atmosphere of tension caused by the widening and terrifying march of events in Czechoslovakia was much relieved during the past week by the dramatic visit of Mr. Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister to Mr. Hitler in Bavaria. On the results of these conversations hang the hopes of the civilized world. The Prime Minister of the Dominion, Mr. Mackenzie King in a wire to Mr. Chamberlain expressed the deep satisfaction of the government at the visit. "I am sure," Mr. King said "the whole Canadian people will warmly approve this far-sighted and truly noble action on the part of Mr. Chamberlain." Direct personal contact is the most effective means of clearing away the doubts and misunderstanding that have marked the course of events in Europe in recent months. Mr. Chamberlain has taken emphatically the "right step."

It may be some days before anything really definite is known about these conversations. The first three hours spent together in Hitler's mountain retreat were spent in a "frank discussion" we have been told. Other conversations between the British Prime Minister and Mr. Chamberlain will follow. The world awaits the outcome in suspense. The government and Canadian people share in the universal anxiety. Domestic affairs in this country lose for a time their significance in the face of a world situation which has unimaginable possibilities. But even in the face of the continued unabated disaster in the republic of Czechoslovakia, the hope which refuses to die, rests in the unswerving efforts of the British people and their statements to hold in check the desperate forces which work their will. The Canadian government and the Canadian people wholeheartedly support these efforts. As expressed by editorial comment throughout the "Ottawa Spotlight" course taken by Mr. Chamberlain has removed the possibility of "misunderstanding." All cards are laid on the table, all avenues for the preservation of peace are explored and if even then the catastrophe cannot be averted, responsibility before the bar of world opinion will be placed unequivocally where it belongs.

The Trade Pact With the United States

Until the pact with the United States is finally signed and sealed and livered there will continue to be rumormongering about Canadian products which may be injured by the new treaty with the new treaty between the United States and the United Kingdom. Only with the conclusion of this treaty as well as this anxiety removed, will the present our 3 negotiators who have been in Washington for months are expected in Ottawa to lay before the cabinet ministers the difficulties which are still to be straightened out. One of these is the regulation in force in the United States which forces all lumber shipped from Canada to last market to be branded with the country of origin. As the regulations governing supplies for governmental works in the United States under the WPA, stipulate that the lumber must be branded with the country of origin.

Many, Livingstone, Demille

To Play Roles Of Henry, Livingstone, Demille. Jack Benny and Mary Livingston will play the roles of a couple of people named Jack Benny and Mary Livingston when they star in "Save the Keys to Baldpate" in the Lux Radio Theatre on Monday, September 26, over CFAC at 6 p.m. There is also a character in the play who is a movie producer named Cecil B. DeMille. His part will be played by an actor named Cecil B. DeMille. Jack Benny and Mary Livingston will return to the air on Sunday, October 2, in their own program at 5 p.m. over CFAC.

Friends of Eddie Crellin will be sorry to learn that in a tournament game last week end, he ran into trouble, and sustained a compound double fracture of his leg. At home plate he and the catcher slipped, Eddie being thrown over the catcher's shoulder. The team feels the loss of their star player greatly especially as they are just starting the playoffs. Under the best of care, Eddie is impatiently chafing to be out and about again. You just can't keep a good man down.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. L. G. Strange Director of "The World of Wheat"

The shadow of the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse is falling upon us. The chargers are being groomed, saddled and equipped to spread war, hunger, death and destruction.

Should these evil forces be loosed, then the young men, under flying banners and to the strains of martial music, will bravely march to battle. But soon they will find that their flesh is but a poor shield against burning, jagged steel splinters. They will know the hard choking and blinding death from poison gas. They will experience the agonizing dry-throated, ghastly fear as their companions before them become pale of torn and shattered flesh and bone. They will see once again homes and gardens made into heaps of mud and rubble.

At home little children will tell with pride of the brave deeds their gallant soldier fathers, but in quiet places degraded gentle women will mourn their lost men, and will look to a future sheltered and empty of hope.

Finally when "The Captains and the Kings depart", there will lie pathetically across the country the burnt-out wreckage of a civilization that has forgotten him. Then for farmers the aftermath of low prices, "a week here and three months there" for barley for a penny, the Scriptures tell us.

Yet throughout the ages has ever rolled this ghastly, unbroken injunction to man—share the fruits of your toil and of your lands freely with those in need—or suffer war.

How sad, how pathetic, how stupid is all.

Lovers of the horse have no longer abolished in war. Have no longer abolished in war.

Scout loss by fire at John Taylor's Service Station was averted by quick action from M. A. Brown. From a local coffee shop he noticed smoke and then flames at the garage door. They were put out, however, with lightning speed. As there was a tank truck inside, it might easily have been disastrous.

The old fashioned hobby of collecting brightly coloured maple leaves has been put on a cash basis with the announcement that $215 in prizes will be awarded in the sixth maple leaf contest organized jointly by the Canadian Travel Bureau, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways. This is the sixth year of the contest, and it has been very successful in the past. While B.C. holds all the big leaves, the more beautiful ones are very scattered, as shown by the various winners' home towns. Rules are very simple and all but employees of the three firms above may enter. Their families are not excluded. Rules may be obtained at any railway station.

From the Royal Society of Music comes word that of four scholarships awarded to all Canada, two came to Alberta. Miss Mary Hughes of Calgary and Mr. Frank Husek of Bellevue are the winners, and will receive two years tuition, at the Academy.

These awards are for promise and application, not necessarily for high marks. Mr. Husek also received the gold medal for highest points in the Grade 8 exams.

By Scout Day at the Fair—Plans are being discussed for a Boy Scout Day at the New York World's Fair next year. Boy Scout Day at the last Chicago World Fair drew the fair's third largest attendance.

Modern Method of Stopping a Runaway.—Pursue of a runaway milk wagon with a motor truck, passing the driverless horses as they galloped wildly down a hill, and maneuvering in front so as to stop them, before they reached a bridge, was commendation for Rover Scout James Hamilton of Edmonton. A number of other scouts were playing near the bridge, and possible injury to some of them was averted.

BRITISH LABOR SEEKS BREN GUN PROBE IN LONDON.—Leaders of the Labor bloc in Parliament have for long evinced their dissatisfaction with war materials contracts, and now desire their intention of pressing to a sweeping inquiry into the British contract with the Inglis firm.

Two men were fishing, but couldn't get a bite. Then a little boy came along and began fishing. He pulled out a 12 inch perch, but threw it back. Having a bit of luck now," said one of the men. Then the boy caught an 18 inch one and then threw this back into the water. "Lummy, you are throwing 'em back, sonny?"

"Well, said the boy, we've only got a six-inch frypan."

AN HONEST MAN.—A preacher at the close of one of his sermons said—Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up. Presently every man, woman, and child, with one exception, rose to his feet. The preacher noted them, and—Now let every man not paying his debts stand up. The exception, a careworn individual, clothed in a careworn suit, slowly arose, saying a periphrastic position.

How is a my friend, asked the minister, that you are the only one not able to meet his obligations?

A Smuggler's Song—

If you wake at midnight, and hear a horse's feet.
Don't go driving back the blind, or looking in the street,
Them that ask no questions isn't told a lie.

Watch the wall, my darling, while the Gentlemen go by!
Five and twenty ponies,
Trotting through the dark—
Brandy for the Parson.
Breezy for the Clerk;
Laces for a lady, letters for a spy,
And watch the wall, my darling, while the Gentlemen go by!

Running round the wood lamp if you chance to find

Little barrels, roped and tarred, all full of brandy-wine;

Don't you shout to come and look, nor use 'em for your play;

Put the brushwood back again—and they'll be gone next day.

If you see the stable-door setting open wide;

If you see a tired horse lying down inside;

If your mother mends a coat cut about and tore;

If the lining's wet and warm—don't you ask no more!

If you met King George's men, dressed in blue and red;

You be careful what you say, and mind what is said.

If they call you "pretty maid," and chuck you "beach the chin,"

Don't you tell where no one is, nor yet where no one's been.

Knocks and footsteps round the house—whistles after dark—

You've no call for running out till the housework's done;

Trusty's here and Fletcher's here, and see how dumb they lie—

They don't fret to follow when the Gentlemen go by!

If you do as you've been told, likely there's a chance

You'll be given a dainty doll, all the way from France,

With a cup of Valenciennes, and a velvet hood—

A present from the Gentlemen, along o' being good.

Five and twenty ponies,

Trotting through the dark—

Brandy for the Parson,

Breezy for the Clerk.

Them that ask no questions isn't told a lie—

Watch the wall, my darling, while the Gentlemen go by!

A FARMER'S MUSINGS

(By The Longhornman)

TWO LATE

Now that the Indians under the leadership of chief Walking Eagle want a share of the natural resources, we'll tell our noble Red Brethren that they are plugging out o' luck.

Of course they can still expect plenty of poplars and grasshoppers, but pining for forests and oil wells is a vain proceeding.

In spite of the millings which the public invested for the development of Turner Valley, control is now vested in a few large corporations, and the smaller fry long ago knows farewell to their hard earned six pence.

Fires, caused by careless campers have ruined many fine stands of timber, while the men who piled their axes for commercial purposes are not more merciful than the flames which swept over areas.

When trees are cut down in many European countries the law insists on instant replacement, but no such wise precaution exists in this bountiful.

It was the wanton destruction of timber limits that caused a well known Canadian to seek voluntary exile in the neighboring Republic.

He thought that this would enable him to wage a successful campaign for the replanting of the huge areas made desolate by the greed of his fellow countrymen.

So far as the writer knows, very little success has attended his efforts.

THE SABBATH DAY

In view of the activities of numerous individuals, the banning of Sunday thrashing seems a very one sided affair.

Golf clubs, tennis flannels and fishing poles are brandished every where and the blood curdling cry of church service is quite likely to be followed by programs of jazz music and other forms of week day entertainment.

Citizens can also obtain gas for their cars. Refreshments for their stomachs, and aspirin for their neuritis.

Gathering the fruits of a seasons' toil is a criminal offence, however, and the man who ignores a warning, has to accept what ever penalty is levied upon him.

The writer has no objections to anything that will make the Sabbath day one of peace and fest, but when Hall way engine blows off steam, and crowds foot at base ball games, it seems as though the present act is too broad minded in one sense and too narrow in another.

We have mentioned all these things solely because a newspaper man failed to do so when he was giving the farmers a going over for working on Sundays.

PROFITEERING

Although it is said that a number of farmers are bolting wheat, with the expectation of obtaining better prices through the outbreak of a general European war, it is to be hoped that their reward will come through other means.

There is so much genuine pain, sorrow and heroism associated with armed conflict it seems a shame that anyone should make money out of it.

Profiteering, however, is nearly as old as war itself and the profiteers of 1914-1918 created numerous millionaires.

Many of these men had manifestly strong plants, but one had gotten but a pea.

Through the influence of political friends he obtained a contract for the building of wooden ships, and this he turned over to practical men for a handsome consideration.

At the time he received his easily acquired wealth, many of his country men were dying for the sake of their principle and love of country.

"Way to Hell", said General Sherman, and since the sagacious American soldier well knew of the hideous graft connected with the food and clothing of his own troops it is quite possible that his oft repeated words were meant to cover more than the booming of guns and the slaughter of brave men.

Ardenode

Mr and Mrs A. M. Watson, Mrs M. Saunders, also Mr Sandy Smith spent Sunday visiting friends at Cornish.

Mr and Mrs H. Hilton visited with Mr and Mrs Geoffrey one afternoon last week.

Mr H. G. Smith has returned home after spending a few weeks repairing elevators at different points.

Mr and Mrs J. Seymour and family also Mr and Mrs E. Knight and family of Calgary spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mrs H. Shuman.

Servicemans Creek School made a very good showing in the School Play held in Strathmore Friday and Saturday.

Thrashing is getting fairly well cleaned up in the district. Weather has been ideal for the last two weeks.

SERVING A GREAT FIELD

From United Grain Growers' terminal at Port Arthur to that at Vancouver is over 1,800 miles. It is over a thousand miles in a straight line from the most easterly of the Company's elevators to the most westerly one. Its most southerly elevator is 500 miles further south than its most northerly elevator. It is a vast area which is served by this farmers' company. Because of the great area served, it has resources, equipment, organization and information enabling it to give every possible protection to the interests of its farmer customers.

Organized by farmers, owned by farmers, controlled by farmers, this Company's essential purpose is now, as it has always been, to be of service to farmers. The experience of farmers throughout the vast area served that this purpose has been carried out throughout the Company's history of more than thirty years.

HARVESTING AT CEREAL
 The fine weather the past two weeks has enabled our farmers to get the major part of their grain in stacks and some few have commenced threshing. So far as we can ascertain from careful inquiry the wheat in this district will average from ten to twelve bushels per acre.

THE SPORTS LEDGER

Rgina Leads

Dwan Griffing set his hat at high angle as the result of a 7-0 win his Routiers accomplished at the expense of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers at the latter city on Tuesday last. Perhaps it was the unlucky tilt that bothered the Bombers. The Queen City Riders have not been beaten as yet and lead the Conference to date.

Courage

Despite the fact that he had lain in bed for six months with an injured foot eleven year old Clayton Boardman, Augusta Sharpshooters, defended his title successfully at the National Street tournament at Tulsa Oklahoma, Clayton stood by means of crutches and shot 52-100.

Finishing the 1938 Polo Tournament with an unbeaten record the Calgary Polo Club defeated High River 8-1 in the final match of the year.

Wins Golf Title

An Ottawa youngster in the Pro ranks shot a brilliant 68 to win his third straight Canadian Championship Stan Horne who was two strokes behind at the start of the final best Bob Gray of Toronto by one stroke.

The Grid Ideal

The Ideal University footballer at Prince Georges the following attributes. He is 5ft. 11in. tall weighs approximately 185 lbs and usually leans towards Engineering in his more serious moments. He has been classed as a Junior with a Sophomore's time. He is usually of the more energetic frame of mind.

Win Again

Regina Roughriders put another feather in Dwan Griffing's hat when they defeated Winnipeg Varsity squad 14-7 on Friday the 16th.
